Lt CHRISTIAN F. DREYER - WHO WAS HE?

While this base was abuilding - 1937-38 - one man stood out as the most prominent of all. He was an impressive looking, clean cut soldier - a 1st Lieutenant, West Point graduate, by the name of Christian F. Dreyer.

Lieutenant Dreyer came to SAD as an assistant to the Constructing Quartermaster Col Hugo E. Pitz on 25 August, 1937. Colonel Pitz had major responsibilities elsewhere, leaving Lieutenant Dreyer in charge of the work at SAD most of the time. Later, 22 July 1938, Lt Dreyer was made Construction Quartermaster. He was the most familiar figure on the base throughout the greater part of the building period. It was his responsibility to make sure that the contractors did their work properly. In this he was capable as he knew engineering well.

The civil service employees of the base, growing from about 50 to near 100 during this time, had great respect for Lieutenant Dreyer. They consisted of inspectors, laborers, clerks, guards, and a few skilled craftsmen.

After the death of Capt John A. Austin, the first Commanding Officer of SAD, Lieutenant Dreyer assumed command - a position which he held for 3 days only - 28, 29, and 30 October 1938 - until a regular replacement for Captain Austin arrived. This replacement was Maj Charles M. Savage. Lieutenant Dreyer holds the distinction of serving the shortest period and of having been the only 1st Lieutenant Commanding Officer of SAD.
